Astute staff members discovered this little gem outside the TT offices just before April 2026 and we thought today would be perfect for Issue 4.1 to see the light of day.

Our staff members skarme and byrd made sure the text was fit for sharing with the public, while Pummy handled the art, referencing THE original THE TUROGUE study by community expert Reverie. TheKnightWhoSaysYis was unfortunately unable to provide the usual memes due to crayons being plundered, but provided advice on humor and seaweed. Lasy handled photography and presentation.
